

ABSTRACT

A waveguide comprising light scattering particles is described. The invention encompasses methods of making the waveguide, using the waveguide in analyte assays,
5 and apparatus for detection of light scattered by light scattering particles in the waveguide.